I enjoy the addition of a Governance ring to the main modules.

I would like to propose and additional, seventh ring - an outer shell. Governance at its core, supporting the 5 main functional workings of this model, and now an outer shelled proxy for these functional workings.

It's time to take back C2! Why should the attackers be the only ones to use this?

I present: Communicate & Collaborate

This ring enhances the importance of communicating all findings with the overall SecOps communities, and through this effective communication, allowing us to collaborate enhance this framework and its enrichment.

Thank you for the time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Brent Wegener
