Hello,

As there is one date listed within the Public Draft and a different date on the website, I am not sure whether the public comment period is still open.

The draft revision addresses several areas of interest, notably supply chain risk management, metrics and measurements, and incident response. I also look forward to the online informative references and the implementation examples. I would definitely find it helpful to see the NICE Framework Tasks incorporated.

I would also find it helpful to see guidance for maturity measurements against other frameworks such as the C2M2. The CSF 1.1 mention that Implementation Tiers are not necessarily a measure of maturity can be confusing and current mappings of the C2M2 to the CSF are also unclear.

Thank you for your time and consideration.
