1	NextNine	Michael Coden	T	20		Protection	Protection section does not address implementing processes for installing security patches for software applications, and operating systems, and using/updating antivirus signatures on a regular or as-needed basis.	PR.IP-3.5 Processes for installing security patches in control systems software and the operating systems on which those applications run, and usage of antivirus software and processes for updating antivirus signatures should be in place. Reference should be made to the Draft ISA99 Standard, Working Group 6 material.
