EVSW Metrics

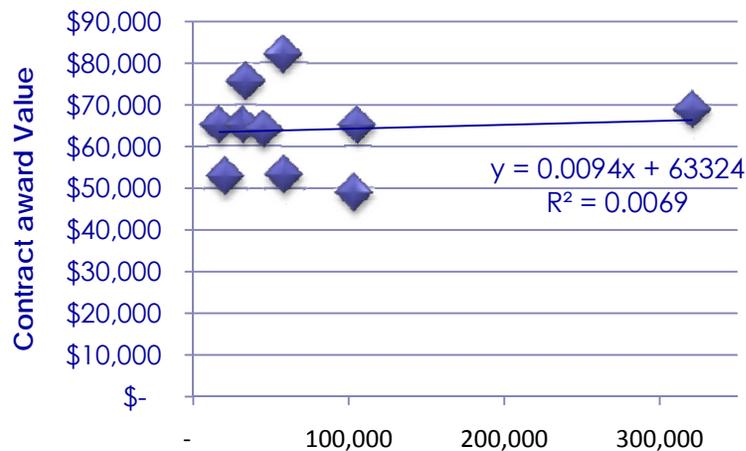

Correlation of Initial Contract Award Cost to Total # of Participating Jurisdictions in State

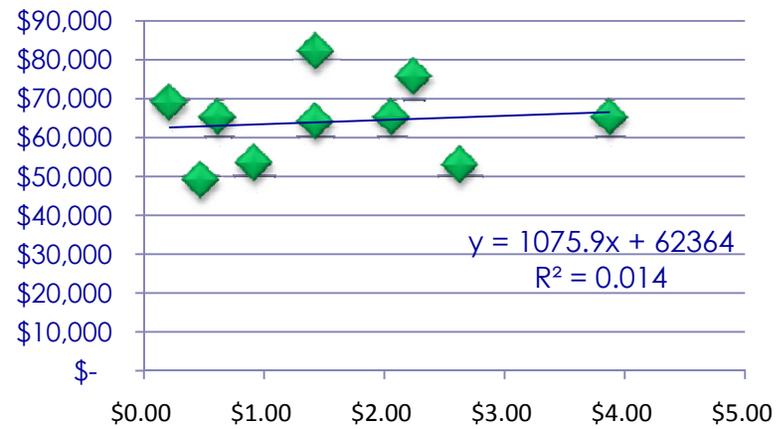

Correlation of Total # of Ballot Styles to Initial Contract Award Cost

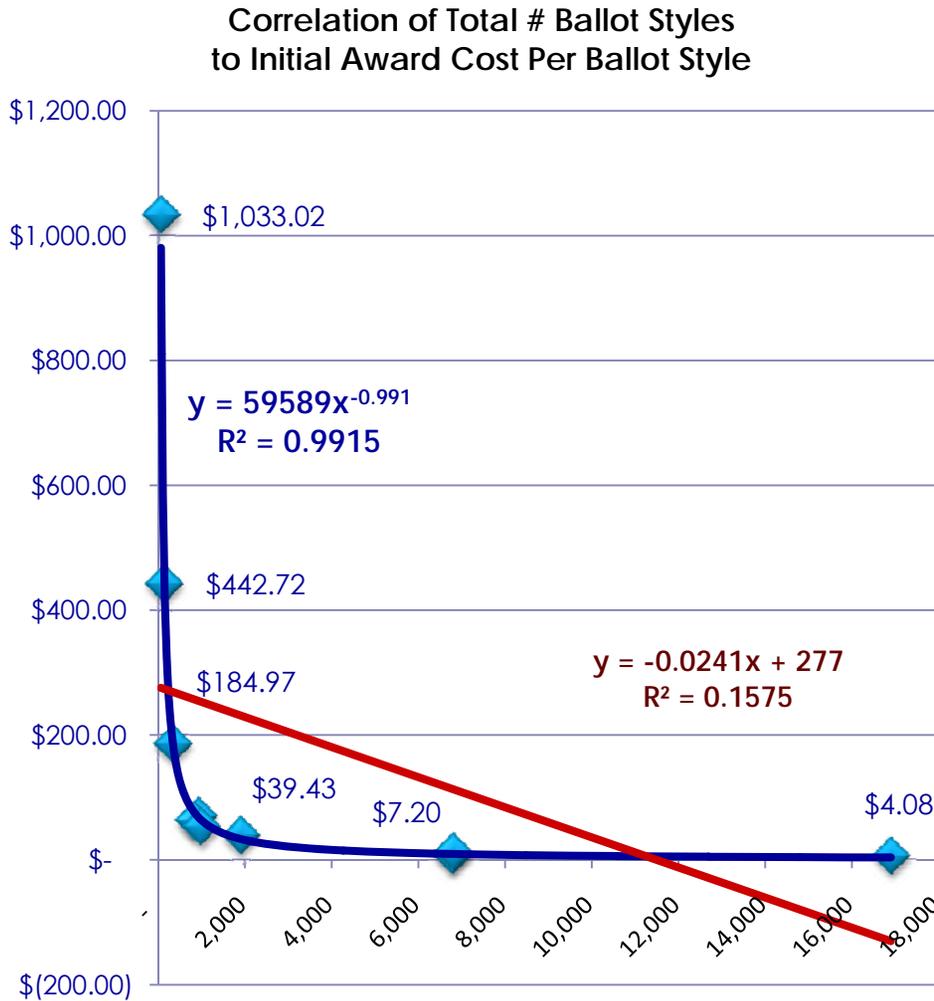

Correlation of Total Estimated UOCAVA Voters in State to Initial Award Cost

Correlation of Initial Contract Award Cost per UOCAVA Voter to Initial Contract Award Cost

EVSW Lessons

- No correlation between contract cost and:
 - # of ballot styles
 - # of election jurisdictions
 - # of voters
- Average baseline cost about $65,000
- Marginal cost of additional ballot style is almost zero.
- Ballot data acquisition was difficult
- Federal Contracting Process was cumbersome

2012 Technology Grant Plan

- 2010 cycle used federal contracting to purchase systems used in States
 - Attempted to incorporate State requirements and input as much as possible
 - But ultimately, it's a federal contract and a federal system

- Instead, 2012 cycle plan is grants to States and localities to incubate technological efforts to serve UOCAVA voters

- Focus Programs:
 - Online Registration
 - Online Absentee Ballot Request
 - Online and Expedited Blank Ballot Delivery
 - Online Voted Ballot Tracking

- Key Grant Considerations:
 - # of Voters Assisted
 - Projected Improvement in UOCAVA Voting Success
 - ROI and length of system availability

- More details of the grant program at pre-NASED meeting on 2/9/11

Demonstration & Pilot Projects

- DoD required by law to conduct electronic absentee voting demonstration project
 - 42 USC 1073ff note; 2002 and 2005 NDAA's
 - Mandates
 - Cast Ballots through electronic voting system
 - Only Uniformed services voters specified
 - States must agree to participate
 - Report afterwards

- DoD allowed to wait for EAC certified guidelines
 - EAC establishes guidelines
 - EAC also certifies it will assist in project
 - Different requirement than MOVE Act
 - DoD may further delay implementation

- FY2011 Final Appropriations and Ongoing DoD Efficiencies Key Variable
- Who should run (and therefore pay for) pilot programs in support of the EAC developed electronic absentee voting guidelines?

How Electronic Standards Development Should Be Framed

GAO Guidance

- FVAP & EAC need detailed plans
- Necessary plan elements:
 - results-oriented action plan
 - goals, tasks, milestones, time frames, and contingencies
- FVAP-EAC Memorandum of Understanding
- EAC-NIST Interagency Agreement
- MOVE Act also requires EAC to develop detailed timeline for development of electronic absentee ballot guidelines - Roadmap

Risk = % x impact

- Acceptable risk level policy decision already made
 - It IS the current voting system
 - Accepts 1/3 of absentee ballots never returned
- We should accept equivalent risk in new UOCAVA systems
 - May have different probability or impact
 - Can reduce probability and/or mitigate impact
 - Goal is to keep risk level at least the same, if not better
- The articulation of risk in the current system would serve as a useful baseline for future electronic absentee systems

Path Forward

Articulate the Current Risk

- Evaluate the postal mail UOCAVA absentee ballot system as the baseline
- Find comparable current system threats to NIST/other identified threats
- Develop comparable measures for other voting systems

Establish Properties

- What “properties” are necessary for an electronic absentee voting system?
- To achieve the same level of risk as current system

Establish Interim Pilots

- Integrate current work
- Also examine national level threat risks
- Develop decision points for iterative development

Focus on Technological, Security, and Reliability Issues with Electronic Return of Voted Ballot
