Cyber Team,

    I wanted to share a link to the IA framework named the Community Gold Standard (CGS) that we have been developing within the Information Assurance Directorate at NSA. The framework is currently undergoing a review and revision process but the essence of the approach will remain the same.

I've included a link to the IAD web page where your team can review the framework. Feel free to ask questions.

Thanks,

        John
