

NIST SP 1001, Basic Mass Metrology CD-ROM Course Credits

Like any good movie or multimedia production, this project would not have been finished without the full cast. The goodness of the final project can be attributed to everyone who was involved – but I take full responsibility for any errors. My thanks to all – none of this could have been completed without the enthusiastic and supportive participation of the following colleagues and contractors. Additional thanks go to coworkers and State labs who enthusiastically and patiently supported this development effort while other projects were put on hold. My heart-felt appreciation also goes to my husband, Randy Motz, who patiently supported this 3-year development effort that was carried home all too often. My apologies if I have left anyone out.
