

Initial Report of TGDC Recommendations Delivered to Election Assistance Commission

On May 9, 2005, the Technical Guidelines Development Committee (TGDC) delivered an initial set of recommendations for new voluntary voting system guidelines (known as the May 9, 2005 Voluntary Voting System Guidelines Version 1, Initial Report) to the Election Assistance Commission (EAC). The EAC will review these recommendations over the next few weeks and make a determination as to what they will put forward as the EAC's proposed voting system guidelines for public comment.

Notice of the public comment period on the EAC's proposed guidelines will be posted in the Federal Register. EAC will make the proposed guidelines document available for download from their website as well as in hardcopy and CD. A template will be provided for those who wish to submit comments. The EAC homepage will contain a direct link to the proposed guidelines document as well as instructions for how to obtain this document in other formats and how to submit comments.

For further information regarding the EAC proposed guidelines document, please contact the EAC at votingsystemguidelines@eac.gov.
