2011 Baldrige Award Application Forms
The Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award, created by Public Law 100-107 in 1987, is the highest level of national recognition for performance excellence that a U.S. organization can receive. The award was established to promote the awareness of performance excellence as an increasingly important element of competitiveness. In addition, the award promotes the sharing of information on successful performance strategies and the benefits of using them. Organizations apply for the award in one of six eligibility categories: manufacturing, service, small business, education, health care, and nonprofit.

The President of the United States traditionally presents the award at a ceremony in Washington, D.C. The award crystal, composed of two solid crystal prismatic forms, stands 14 inches tall. The crystal is held in a base of black anodized aluminum, with the award recipient’s name engraved on the base. A 22-karat gold-plated medallion is captured in the front section of the crystal. The medal bears the name of the award and “The Quest for Excellence” on one side and the Presidential Seal on the other.

Increase Your Insight into the Baldrige Criteria

To gain insight into the Baldrige Criteria for Performance Excellence and the Baldrige Award process, you may nominate a senior member of your organization to be noncompetitively appointed to the Baldrige Award Board of Examiners. The nominee must not have served previously as a Baldrige examiner and must fully participate as a member of the board; this includes attending Examiner Preparation in Gaithersburg, Maryland, and participating in the evaluation of an organization that has applied for the award.

Board appointments provide a significant opportunity for your organization to learn about the Criteria and the evaluation process. Examiners gain a better understanding of the Baldrige Criteria, see how the Criteria are used in high-performing organizations, and develop a network of professional colleagues. To take advantage of this opportunity, examiners make a substantial time commitment. They commit to a minimum of 110 hours from April to December, including approximately 40 hours in April/May for self-study, three to four days in May to attend Examiner Preparation, and 50–70 hours from June through September to complete the Independent Review and Consensus Review.

If requested by the program, examiners also participate in a Site Visit Review of approximately nine days. All board appointments are for one year only, and your organization or the nominee must cover travel and housing expenses incurred for Examiner Preparation.

The Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award logo and the phrases “The Quest for Excellence” and “Performance Excellence” are trademarks and service marks of the National Institute of Standards and Technology.
January 2011

Congratulations!

By supplementing your copy of the 2011–2012 Criteria for Performance Excellence with a copy of the 2011 Baldrige Award Application Forms booklet, you have taken the second step in using the Baldrige process to improve your organization’s performance and contribute to its sustainability in a challenging economy. Now it is time to consider taking the next step—applying for the award.

For a nominal application fee, determined by the size and nature of your organization, your application will receive at least 300 hours of review by several experts selected for their depth and breadth of knowledge. Site-visited organizations receive more than 1,000 hours of in-depth review, and each applicant receives an extensive feedback report containing strengths and opportunities for improvement.

Because of the learning inherent in completing the application and in the feedback you will receive, the effort that goes into applying for the award should result in a significant return on your investment. The process will help you prioritize your opportunities for improvement and identify strengths to celebrate. As a result, the rate at which your organization improves should accelerate.

To further increase your organizational learning, we will provide an opportunity for a senior employee of your organization to be a member of the 2011 Board of Examiners. If you are interested in taking advantage of this opportunity, you must submit your Eligibility Certification Form on or before March 1, 2011. You should use the Microsoft Word versions of these forms, which are available online at http://www.nist.gov/baldrige/publications/award_application.cfm.

Every Baldrige Award recipient’s journey toward performance excellence includes using the application process as part of the organization’s improvement and strategic planning process. Many of our recipients apply several times before receiving the award, while others receive the award on their first attempt. They all report that the process is worthwhile. The Baldrige process is designed to make each applicant a “winner” by raising its performance to a higher level. Consider making the decision to apply now, and accelerate the rate of your organization’s performance improvement. As thousands of organizations can attest, your organization will be better for it!

Sincerely yours,

Harry S. Hertz, Director
Baldrige Performance Excellence Program
2011 Changes and Reminders

New: Include the Number of Volunteers in Your Workforce

In the Baldrige Criteria for Performance Excellence, “workforce” is defined as follows:

all people actively involved in accomplishing the work of your organization, including paid employees (e.g., permanent, part-time, temporary, and telecommuting employees, as well as contract employees supervised by the organization) and volunteers, as appropriate

Accordingly, in the site listing in item 12 of the Eligibility Certification Form, please give the number of volunteers at each site, if applicable to your organization.

New: Submit Your Application via Overnight Delivery after May 10

We encourage you to submit your award application package as early as possible. If you submit your application on paper after May 10, please send the package via an overnight delivery service.

Reminder: Include Only Terms and Abbreviations in the Glossary

In the glossary, include only terms and abbreviations used in the application, with very brief definitions. Do not include descriptions of processes, tools, methods, or techniques in the glossary, or your application will be returned to you to remove extra glossary content.

What groups are involved in the Baldrige Award process?

National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST): The U.S. Department of Commerce is responsible for the Baldrige Performance Excellence Program and the award. NIST, an agency within the Department of Commerce, manages the Baldrige Program.

American Society for Quality (ASQ): Under contract to NIST, ASQ assists in administering the award program.

Board of Examiners: The Board of Examiners evaluates award applications and prepares feedback reports for applicant organizations. The board consists of leading experts from U.S. businesses and health care, education, and nonprofit organizations.

Panel of Judges: This panel, which is part of the Board of Examiners, selects award applicants to undergo site visits and recommends award recipients. The secretary of commerce appoints the judges, who represent all sectors of the U.S. economy.

Board of Overseers: The secretary of commerce appoints this board, which provides oversight on the Baldrige Program for the U.S. Department of Commerce. The board consists of distinguished leaders from all sectors of the U.S. economy.

The Foundation for the Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award: The foundation raises and manages funds that permanently endow the award program.

How do organizations apply for the Baldrige Award?

Applying for the award is a two-part process. The first part is eligibility certification, when you certify that your organization meets eligibility requirements. Eligibility certification packages will be accepted beginning January 3, 2011 (see the due dates below).

In the second part, you submit an award application package that contains an application summarizing your organization’s processes and results in response to the requirements delineated in the Criteria for Performance Excellence, the appropriate fees (see p. 4), and proof of the date you send the package. For reference copies of the Eligibility Certification Form and Award Application Form, see pages 8 and 22. For forms to fill out and submit, see http://www.nist.gov/baldrige/publications/award_application.cfm.

Your application will not be accepted unless you complete eligibility certification by the due date. If you plan to apply for the award in 2011, you will also need the appropriate 2011–2012 Criteria for Performance Excellence booklet for your organization. See page 25 for ordering information, or see http://www.nist.gov/baldrige.

How do organizations benefit from applying for the Baldrige Award?

Each applicant organization gains an outside perspective on itself based on 300–1,000 hours of review by members of the Board of Examiners. The results of this review are synthesized in a feedback report outlining strengths and opportunities for improvement based on the Criteria for Performance Excellence. Organizations often use feedback reports in their strategic planning to focus on their customers and improve results, as well as to help energize and guide organizational improvement efforts.

How are Baldrige Award recipients selected, and what is expected of them?

The award focuses on performance in five key areas: product and process outcomes, customer-focused outcomes, workforce-focused outcomes, leadership and governance outcomes, and financial and market outcomes. The award is not given for specific products or services. To be selected as an award recipient, an organization must have a system that ensures continuous improvement in overall performance in delivering products and/or services and that provides an approach for engaging and responding to customers and stakeholders.

A team from the Board of Examiners reviews each award application against the Criteria for Performance Excellence. The higher-scoring organizations receive site visits. The Panel of Judges reviews information obtained from the organizations during these site visits and recommends award recipients. The secretary of commerce then makes the final selection of award recipients. Up to 18 awards may be given annually across six eligibility categories: manufacturing, service, small business, education, health care, and nonprofit. Previous award recipients nominated for a subsequent award are not included in the cap of 18.

Award recipients are required to share information about their exceptional performance practices with other U.S. organizations, but they do not need to share proprietary information, even if it was included in their award applications. The principal mechanisms for sharing information are the annual Quest for Excellence® Conference, described on page 27, and several one-day regional conferences. Sharing beyond the Quest for Excellence Conference is voluntary.

Are the identity of applicants and the information in their applications made public?

The identity of all applicant organizations remains confidential unless they receive the award. The Baldrige Program treats all information submitted by applicants as strictly confidential and has numerous protocols and processes in place to protect the organizations and help ensure the integrity of the award.

What is the basis for the Criteria for Performance Excellence?

The Criteria reflect validated, leading-edge practices for achieving performance excellence. They are developed from the learning of private- and public-sector organizations that are working to achieve performance excellence.

There are three versions of the Criteria: business/nonprofit, education, and health care. All three versions are closely aligned. Variations in terminology, however, reflect differences among the three sectors. For example, the Criteria for Performance Excellence (referred to as the Business/Nonprofit Criteria) refer to “customers.” Those customers are further identified as “students and stakeholders” in the Education Criteria for Performance Excellence and “patients and stakeholders” in the Health Care Criteria for Performance Excellence.
2011 Baldrige Award Cycle at a Glance

Eligibility Certification

March 1 (with a nomination to the Board of Examiners)

April 12 (without a nomination)

Submit the eligibility certification package to certify your organization’s eligibility in one of six award categories: manufacturing, service, small business, education, health care, or nonprofit.

Award Application

May 3 (CD)

May 17 (paper)

Submit either 30 copies of the application or a CD containing a PDF file of the application.

Independent and Consensus Review

June–September

Members of the Board of Examiners review the application (1) independently and (2) as a team led by a senior examiner. Based on these reviews, the Panel of Judges determines which organizations receive site visits.

Site Visit Review

October

Organizations receiving site visits provide updates for all results in the application. A team of examiners, led by a senior examiner, goes on-site to verify and clarify the information in the application. Site visits consist primarily of a review of pertinent records and data, as well as interviews. The team submits its report to the Panel of Judges.

Judges’ Review

November

The Panel of Judges conducts final reviews and recommends award recipients to the director of the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST), who conveys the recommendations to the secretary of commerce. The secretary of commerce and the director of NIST determine whether recommended award recipients are appropriate role models and, therefore, should receive the award. The purpose of this determination is to help preserve the award’s integrity.

In determining role models, NIST checks records on site-visited applicants and the highest-ranking official to verify their compliance with legal and various regulatory requirements. The secretary of commerce then selects the award recipients.

Feedback Reports

September–December

Members of the Board of Examiners prepare feedback reports detailing organization-specific strengths and opportunities for improvement based on the organizations’ responses to the Criteria for Performance Excellence.

Each organization receives a feedback report after it is determined either that the organization will not move to the next level of review or that it is an award recipient.

Award Ceremony

Spring

The president of the United States traditionally presents the awards at a special ceremony in Washington, D.C.

*Covers expenses associated with the review of applications and the development of feedback reports. Include an additional processing fee of $1,250 if you submit your application on a CD.

Not applicable for most organizations. See page 12.

Paid only by applicants receiving site visits. The amount depends on the number of sites, the number of examiners assigned, the duration of the visit, and other factors. The fee is due to the American Society for Quality two weeks after the site visit.
What is the eligibility certification package?

In the eligibility certification package, your first official step toward applying for the Baldrige Award, you provide enough information to determine whether your organization is eligible to apply. The Baldrige Performance Excellence Program also uses the information to avoid conflicts of interest when assigning examiners to your application. In addition, the Eligibility Certification Form in the package presents a useful profile of your organization and often is the first information read by the examiners who evaluate your application.

The eligibility certification package consists of the following materials, which the Baldrige Program keeps confidential:

- a completed Eligibility Certification Form (see pages 8–15) signed by your organization’s highest-ranking official,
- an organization chart and other required documents described in the Eligibility Certification Form,
- the nonrefundable fee of $150, and
- proof of the date you send the package (see page 15).

The Baldrige Program relies on the information submitted in the Eligibility Certification Form. If at any time during the award cycle the program finds the information to be inaccurate in a way that deems your organization ineligible, your organization will forfeit award eligibility. In that case, your organization will receive a feedback report only.

What is the deadline for submitting a 2011 eligibility certification package?

Send your eligibility certification package by April 12, 2011 (March 1, 2011, for eligibility certification with a nomination to the Board of Examiners; see page 14). Include proof of the mailing date (see page 15). The program encourages you to submit the eligibility certification package as early as possible.

What types of organizations are eligible to apply for the award?

Organizations that are headquartered in the United States, including U.S. subunits of foreign organizations, may apply for the award. For eligibility purposes, overseas U.S. military installations and embassies do not constitute U.S. territories.

In addition, to be eligible, your organization must

- have existed for at least one year (i.e., at least since April 11, 2010),
- have the operational practices associated with all of its major organizational functions available for examination in the United States or its territories, and
- be able to share information (for the purpose of the application) on the seven Criteria categories at your organization’s U.S. facilities and at The Quest for Excellence Conference®.

Eligible organizations fall into six categories: three in business (manufacturing, service, and small business) plus the education, health care, and nonprofit categories.

Business

Eligible for-profit businesses include publicly or privately owned corporations, joint ventures, sole proprietorships, partnerships, and holding companies.

- Manufacturing organizations produce and sell manufactured products or manufacturing processes, or produce agricultural, mining, or construction products. (See the North American Industry Classification System [NAICS] codes on page 17.)

- Service organizations provide or sell services. If your organization is a manufacturer and a service provider, choose your eligibility category based on the activity that provides the larger percentage of your sales.
Small business organizations have 500 or fewer paid employees, are engaged in manufacturing and/or the provision of services, and are discrete, independent entities.

Education

Organizations eligible in the education category are for-profit and nonprofit public, private, and government organizations that devote more than 50 percent of their faculty and staff members and/or budget to providing teaching and instructional services directly to students. Examples are elementary and secondary schools and school districts; colleges, universities, and university systems; schools or colleges within universities; professional schools; community colleges; and technical schools. Departments within schools or colleges are ineligible.

Education organizations may choose to apply in the education category, using the Education Criteria for Performance Excellence, or, as appropriate, in the service, small business, or nonprofit category, using the Criteria for Performance Excellence (the Business/Nonprofit Criteria).

Health Care

Organizations eligible in the health care category are for-profit and nonprofit public, private, and government organizations that devote more than 50 percent of their staff members and/or budget to providing health care services directly to people. Examples are health systems, hospitals, health maintenance organizations, long-term care facilities, health care practitioners’ offices, home health agencies, and dialysis and ambulatory surgery centers.

Organizations that do not provide health care services directly, such as social service agencies, health insurance companies, or medical/dental laboratories, are ineligible in this category but may be eligible in the service, small business, or nonprofit category.

Health care organizations may choose to apply in the health care category, using the Health Care Criteria for Performance Excellence, or, as appropriate, in the service, small business, or nonprofit category, using the Business/Nonprofit Criteria. If your organization is both an education organization and a provider of health care services, choose your eligibility category based on the activity that represents the larger percentage of the budget.

Nonprofit

Nonprofit and government organizations including local, state, and federal government agencies; trade associations; charitable organizations; social service agencies; credit unions; and professional societies are eligible to apply in this category.

If your nonprofit organization provides direct education or direct health care services in addition to other nonprofit services, choose your eligibility category based on the activity that represents the larger percentage of the budget. For example, if a state department of education allocates 70 percent of its budget to certifying teachers and educational programs and 30 percent to directly educating students, it is eligible in the nonprofit category.

The U.S. Department of Commerce, the American Society for Quality, and their subunits are not eligible to apply for the Baldrige Award.

Are subunits—units or divisions of larger organizations—eligible to apply?

The larger organization that holds or has control of a subunit is the “parent”—the highest level of an organization that is eligible to apply for the award. In the nonprofit category, examples of parent organizations are the U.S. Department of Defense (not the Department of the Army), the State of Maryland (not the Maryland Department of Transportation), and the Montgomery County Government (not the Montgomery County Health Department).

Education and Health Care Subunits

If an organization is a subunit of a parent that provides direct teaching and instructional services to students or direct health care services to people, and a subunit also provides these services, the subunit is eligible as noted in the Education and Health Care sections above. Other subunits are eligible if they meet the requirements below.

Other Subunits

To be eligible, subunits must

- be recognizable as discrete entities;
- be easily distinguishable from the parent and its other subunits;
- be self-sufficient enough to be examined in all seven Criteria categories;
- have a clear definition of “organization” reflected in their literature; and
- function as business or operational entities, not as activities assembled to write an award application.

In addition, subunits other than those in education and health care must

- have 500 or more employees, or
- qualify as small businesses as described below, or
- be in manufacturing or service and (1) employ at least 25 percent of the parent’s total workforce and (2) sell or provide 50 percent or more of their products or services outside the applying subunit, the parent, and other organizations owning or having financial or organizational control of the applying subunit or the parent.
A 2009 change in eligibility permitted a broader spectrum of organizations to apply for the award. Specifically, internal suppliers and support functions may apply as long as they have at least 500 employees and meet the other eligibility requirements.

Manufacturing and service subunits with fewer than 500 employees are eligible in the small business category if they
- were independent before acquisition by the parent and continue to operate independently under their own identity or
- are separately incorporated and distinct from the parent’s other subunits.

Is a parent organization eligible to apply for the award if one or more of its subunits are applying?

A subunit and its parent may submit eligibility certification packages in the same year, but only one may apply for the award in that year.

Are multiple subunits of the same parent eligible to apply for the award in the same year?

All subunits of a parent may submit eligibility certification packages in the same year, but the number of subunits that may apply for the award is based on the size of the parent’s workforce (see the table below).

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>If the parent, including all subunits, has</th>
<th>0–1,000 employees,</th>
<th>1,001–20,000 employees,</th>
<th>more than 20,000 employees,</th>
<th>may apply for the award, up to a cap of 5 applications per parent.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>1 subunit per category</td>
<td>2 subunits per category</td>
<td>2 subunits per category for the first 20,000 employees, plus 1 subunit per category for each 20,000 employees or fraction thereof above 20,000</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>

If subunits of the same parent submit award applications beyond the limits noted, the parent organization may decide which subunit(s) continue through the award process. If the parent organization does not make this decision, the Baldrige Program will designate applications with the earliest proof of mailing date as award applicants.

If my organization receives the award, is it eligible to apply again?

All award recipients are ineligible to apply for the award again for five years. For example, an organization that received the award in 2009 may not reapply until 2015. However, during those five years, recipients may submit award applications annually to receive feedback reports outlining their strengths and opportunities for improvement based on the Criteria for Performance Excellence. After five years, recipients may apply for the award or, if they wish, for feedback only.

Similarly, if a subunit with more than 50 percent of the total employees of the parent receives an award, the parent organization and all its subunits are ineligible to apply for the award for five years. However, they may submit award applications to receive feedback only during those five years. If any subunit receives an award, that subunit and all its subunits are ineligible to apply for the award for five years, but they may also submit award applications to receive feedback only during those five years.

The Baldrige Program uses this information to avoid conflicts of interest when assigning examiners to your application. Examiners also use this information in their evaluations.

a. Main products and/or services and major markets served (local, regional, national, and international)

b. Key competitors (those that constitute 5 percent or more of your competitors)

c. Key customers/users (those that constitute 5 percent or more of your customers/users)

d. Key suppliers/partners (those that constitute 5 percent or more of your suppliers/partners)

e. Financial auditor

f. Fiscal year (e.g., October 1–September 30)

14. Nomination to the Board of Examiners

If you submit your eligibility certification package on or before March 1, 2011, you may nominate one senior member from your organization to the 2011 Board of Examiners.

Nominees are appointed for one year only. Nominees

■ must not have served previously on the Board of Examiners; and

■ must be citizens of the United States, be located in the United States or its territories, and be employees of the applicant organization.

The program limits the number of examiners from any one organization. If your organization already has representatives on the board, nominating an additional person may affect their reappointment.

Board appointments provide a significant opportunity for your organization to learn about the Criteria and the evaluation process. The time commitment is also substantial: examiners commit to a minimum of 110 hours from April to December, including approximately 40 hours in April/May to complete self-study, three to four days in May to attend Examiner Preparation, and 50–70 hours from June through September to complete an Independent and Consensus Review. If requested by the program, examiners also participate in a Site Visit Review of approximately nine days. The nominee or the organization must cover travel and housing expenses incurred for Examiner Preparation.

from our organization will serve on the 2011 Board of Examiners.

E-mail address

☐ I understand that the nominee or the organization will cover travel and hotel costs associated with participation in Examiner Preparation.

Once I have certified my organization’s eligibility for the award, how do I apply?

To apply for the award, your organization submits an award application package, which provides information on your organization’s performance management system and the results of its processes. This information enables a team from the Board of Examiners to conduct a rigorous evaluation of your organization. All information provided is considered confidential.

The award application package contains:

- 30 individually bound paper copies of your application (as well as any required supplemental sections) or a CD containing a PDF file of the application
- the appropriate fees (see page 4)
- proof of the date you send the package (see page 23)

The content and formatting requirements for the application are identical whether you submit the application on paper or on CD. See “If I submit the application on CD, how should I assemble it?” below for instructions on creating the CD.

The Baldrige Program reserves the right to return incomplete submissions or submissions that do not meet the requirements given here.

What is the deadline for submitting a 2011 award application package?

To be considered for the 2011 award, send your award application package no later than May 17, 2011, if you submit your application on paper, or May 3, 2011, if you submit your application on CD. Include proof of the mailing date; see page 23 for instructions.

We encourage you to submit your award application package as early as possible. If you submit your application on paper after May 10, please send the package via an overnight delivery service.

What must the application contain?

The application contains the items listed below in the order given. For instructions on writing the Organizational Profile and responding to the Criteria, see the appropriate Criteria booklet for your eligibility category: the 2011–2012 Criteria for Performance Excellence (the Business/Nonprofit Criteria), 2011–2012 Education Criteria for Performance Excellence, or 2011–2012 Health Care Criteria for Performance Excellence.

In your application, include information on all of your organization’s units or subunits. Do not add links to Web sites. Examiners base their evaluations solely on information within the application.

Blank Front Cover. To help ensure confidentiality, do not include text or illustrations.

Title Page. Give the name of your organization. You also may include its address and logo, illustrations, the date, a statement indicating that this is an application for the 2011 Baldrige Award, and/or a statement regarding the confidentiality of the content. Do not include additional information, text, or links to Web sites.

Labeled Tabs or Divider Pages. Use tabs or divider pages to separate the sections listed below. On each, include only the section title. If you include additional text or illustrations, the pages will count toward the 50-page limit for the Responses Addressing All Criteria Items.

- Table of Contents
- 2011 Eligibility Certification Form
- organization chart(s)
- page A-1 of the 2011 Application Form
- Glossary of Terms and Abbreviations
- Organizational Profile
- Responses Addressing All Criteria Items

If you wish, you may also use labeled tabs or divider pages to separate your responses to the seven Criteria categories.

- Eligibility Certification Form
- organization chart(s)
- Award Application Form
- Glossary of Terms and Abbreviations
- Organizational Profile
- individual category and item sections

You do not need to indicate the page numbers for areas to address, tables, and figures.

Eligibility Form and Organization Charts. Include these signed and stamped documents, which ASQ returned to your organization at the conclusion of the eligibility certification process:

- 2011 Eligibility Certification Form
- line-and-box organization chart(s) for your organization
- if your organization is a subunit, line-and-box organization chart(s) of the parent
Application Form. In each of the 30 paper copies, or in the PDF file on your CD, include page A-1 of the form only, ensuring that it is signed by your organization’s highest-ranking official. This page indicates that your organization agrees to the terms and conditions of the award process and that, if selected to receive a site visit, your organization agrees to pay reasonable associated costs (see page 4).

Glossary of Terms and Abbreviations. In the glossary, include only terms and abbreviations used in the application, with very brief definitions. Do not include descriptions of processes, tools, methods, or techniques in the glossary, or your application will be returned to you.

Organizational Profile. This section outlines your organization and states the key factors that influence its operations and future directions. Examiners use this vital part of the application throughout their review. For guidelines on preparing this section, see the appropriate Criteria for Performance Excellence booklet.

Responses Addressing All Criteria Items. In this section, respond to each item as a whole, using the category and item designations in the 2011–2012 Criteria. In your responses to the areas to address within the items, emphasize your organization and its performance system, maintaining the order of the areas. Label the areas to address as in the Criteria booklets (e.g., 4.2a). You may group responses for multiple areas (e.g., 4.2a, b). If an area to address does not pertain to your organization or its performance system, explain why in one or two sentences.

For guidelines on responding to the Criteria, see the appropriate Criteria for Performance Excellence booklet.

Summary of Supplemental Section(s). If the Baldrige Program informed you during eligibility certification that you must submit one or more supplemental sections, include a brief description of each section, listing the products, services, and NAICS codes.

Blank Back Cover. Do not include text or illustrations.

Supplemental Sections. If the Baldrige Program informed you during eligibility certification that your organization must submit one or more supplemental sections,

- in your application, cover the largest group of similar product and/or service lines that are supported by a single performance system, and
- make sure that, taken together, the application and the supplemental section(s) cover all of your organization’s products and/or services and performance systems.

Include the following for each supplemental section, in the order listed:

- blank front cover (no text, illustrations, or figures)
- title page
- labeled tabs or divider pages
- Table of Contents
- organization chart(s)
- Glossary of Terms and Abbreviations
- Organizational Profile (5 or fewer pages)
- Responses Addressing All Criteria Items (35 or fewer pages)
- blank back cover

How should I format the application?

To help ensure equal treatment for all applicants, format your application according to the following requirements. If your submission does not meet these requirements, the Baldrige Program may reject your application. After the program has notified you that your application has been rejected, you will have 72 hours or until the original due date, whichever is later, to resubmit the application in the required format. Resubmitted applications must be postmarked within that time frame and shipped via an overnight delivery service.

For an example of the required format, see http://www.nist.gov/baldrige/publications/nugrain.cfm.

Page Limits

The limits given below include all illustrations, figures, tables, and appendixes. Covers, labeled tabs, and divider pages that contain only titles do not count toward the limits. However, if these pages contain additional material, such as process descriptions, quotations, figures, tables, or illustrations, they count toward the total page allotment.

If any section exceeds the page limit, the Baldrige Program will ask your official contact point to identify which pages to remove.

Graphics

- See the font and type-size requirements in the table above.
- Clearly label each figure using descriptive text. For example, the title of the third figure for item 7.1 might read “Figure 7.1-3 Reliability of Service: Carrier-Dropped Calls.”
- Clearly label all axes and units of measure.
- For information on using graphics in category 7 (Results), see “Guidelines for Responding to Results Items” in the appropriate Criteria for Performance Excellence booklet.

If I submit the application on paper, how should I assemble it?

- Securely fasten all components of the application to prevent separation during handling. Bind supplemental sections separately from the application.
- Do not use pressure-sensitive clips, binders with such clips, or bulky ring binders or similar heavy covers.
- Do not include video or audio material or other information aids.

If I submit the application on CD, how should I assemble it?

- Submit the application in PDF format on a CD-R, not a CD-RW.
- Ensure that the CD can be read from a standard CD-ROM drive.
- Create one PDF file, not multiple files, containing the application. Select the “embed fonts” option.
- In the PDF file, include
  - either (1) a scan of the date-stamped Eligibility Certification Form and chart(s) you received from the American Society for Quality (ASQ) or (2) an electronic version that is not date-stamped, plus one paper copy of the date-stamped documents, and
  - a scan of the completed page A-1 of the Application Form.
- Do not include page A-2 of the Application Form in your PDF file. Instead, submit one paper copy with your award application package.
- Proof the PDF file to verify the contents and number of pages. Also verify that the file prints properly and that all elements meet formatting requirements when printed. ASQ will print your application in color on a laser-type copier/printer at a resolution of 600 by 600 and bind it with a comb binding.
- Include the CD processing fee of $1,250.

The following items are samples of these materials. For the full list, see http://www.nist.gov/baldrige.

Case Study Packets

Case study packets contain a case study (a fictional Baldrige Award application), a scorebook, a feedback report, and an executive summary. When used with the related Criteria for Performance Excellence booklet, the case studies are valuable resources to Baldrige Award applicants and other Criteria users. They illustrate the award application, review, and feedback process; show the format and general content of an application; and furnish information on scoring. The 23rd Annual Quest for Excellence will showcase the 2010 award recipients. At the conference, you will learn about the recipients’ best management practices and Baldrige journeys, participate in educational presentations on the Baldrige Criteria, engage in dynamic networking opportunities, and be inspired to apply the insights gained within your own organization.

The 23rd Annual Quest for Excellence Conference will be held April 3–6, 2011, at the Marriott Wardman Park Hotel in Washington, D.C. For more information, contact the Baldrige Program.

Virtual Quest for Excellence

If you miss The Quest for Excellence, you can still participate virtually through videos, audio recordings, and conference materials. To access these virtual options, see http://www.nist.gov/baldrige.

Paperwork Reduction Act Statement

Notwithstanding any other provision of the law, no person is required to respond to, nor shall any person be subject to a penalty for failure to comply with, a collection of information subject to the requirements of the Paperwork Reduction Act, unless that collection of information displays a currently valid OMB Control Number.

The reason for collecting this information is to allow organizations to apply for the Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award (award). The information obtained will assist in determining the award recipients. Responses to the collection of information are required for organizations to be considered for the award. Confidentiality of the submitted information is covered under the Freedom of Information Act to the extent possible under the law.

The public reporting burden for this collection is estimated to average 100 hours for the initial response of the first-time applicant (this includes the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the relevant data, and completing and reviewing the collection of information). As the organization re-applies for the award in future years, this burden may change, in either direction, based on the feedback the respondent gains from its first application.

Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden, to

The National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST), an agency of the U.S. Department of Commerce, manages the Baldrige Performance Excellence Program. NIST has a 100-plus-year track record of serving U.S. industry, science, and the public with a mission and approach unlike any other agency of government. That mission is to promote U.S. innovation and industrial competitiveness by advancing measurement science, standards, and technology in ways that enhance economic security and improve our quality of life. NIST carries out its mission in four cooperative programs, including the Baldrige Performance Excellence Program. The other three are the NIST laboratories, conducting research that advances the nation’s technology infrastructure and is needed by U.S. industry to continually improve products and services; the Hollings Manufacturing Extension Partnership, a nationwide network of local centers offering technical and business assistance to smaller manufacturers; and the Technology Innovation Program, which provides cost-shared awards to industry, universities, and consortia for research on potentially revolutionary technologies that address critical national and societal needs.
