

Karen Hardy

Director for Risk Management and Deputy Chief Risk Officer

Dr. Karen Hardy is Director for Risk Management and Deputy Chief Risk Officer at the U.S. Department of Commerce.

Dr. Hardy served as a senior advisor on risk management policy to the Controller of the United States while on special assignment to the White House - Office of Management and Budget (OMB), within the Executive Office of the President and served as the principle author of Section 270, Part 6 of OMB Circular A-11. She also authored updates to the revised OMB Circular No. A-123, Management's Responsibility for Enterprise Risk Management and Internal Control. She is the first Federal employee to be selected to serve as a member of the COSO Advisory Council for ERM.

Prior to her federal career, she worked for Citicorp where she managed the operations of four regional branches.

Dr. Hardy is a founder of the Association for Federal Enterprise Risk Management and a former Board Vice President. She is the recipient of two Bronze Medal Awards for superior performance from the Department of Commerce.

Dr. Hardy received her bachelor's from Hampton University; MBA from Strayer University; and Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) degree in organizational leadership and human resource development from Nova Southeastern University.