

Megan Carroll

Principal Analyst, Budget Analysis Division, Congressional Budget Office

Megan Carroll has worked in the Budget Analysis Division of the Congressional Budget Office since February, 1999. She is responsible for preparing estimates of the cost of federal spending related to civil aviation, water transportation, and energy supply and conservation. She also assists in coordinating efforts to ensure consistent use of estimating methodologies throughout work produced by the division and documenting decisions related to rules and guidelines that govern the preparation of baseline projections and legislative cost estimates used for purposes of Congressional budget enforcement.

Ms. Carroll holds a Bachelor of Arts in Economics from the University of Michigan, a Master of Science in Forest Resource Management from the State University of New York's College of Environmental Science and Forestry, and a Master of Public Administration from Syracuse University's Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs.