Changes, Challenges, and Collaborations: Effective Cybersecurity Training

NOW ACCEPTING SUBMISSIONS

The Federal Information Systems Security Educators' Association (FISSEA), founded in 1987, is an organization run by and for information systems security professionals to assist federal agencies in meeting their information systems security awareness, training, education, and certification responsibilities.

FISSEA is seeking presentations for the 2015 Annual Conference. The theme, Changes, Challenges, and Collaborations: Effective Cybersecurity Training was chosen to solicit presentations on the changes you've seen, challenges (what needs to be done to keep technical folks up-to-speed with the latest vulnerabilities, threats, etc. on a limited budget), and collaborations (how are we working together across the field and within our organizations). Join us and share your expertise with a highly motivated professional audience from government, industry, and academia. We encourage you to address all aspects of information security but to focus on the training aspect.

Topics of interest:

- Changes, Challenges, Collaborations
- Security Ramifications of the Internet of Everything (IoE)
 - How do we train using the various options within the IoE
 - How do we help our users be aware of the dangers within the IoE
- Cybersecurity Governance
- Cost- Effective Practices
- Awareness Ideas, Resources, Contacts
- New Techniques for Developing and Conducting Effective, Meaningful Training
- Workforce Development
- Education

FISSEA invites proposals for Panel Discussions, Topic Sessions, and the Pecha Kucha (Lightning Round). Panel Discussions are 50 minutes in length. Topic Sessions are 25 minutes. Pecha Kucha means "chit chat" in Japanese. We use the term to describe a session that contains a series of rapid-paced slides (20 slides are shown for 20 seconds each for a total of 6 minutes, 40 seconds.)

Please keep in mind that sessions are not marketing opportunities, thus corporate marketing materials are not permitted during the sessions. The Federal Business Council (FBC) will host a Vendor and Federal Agency Exhibition on March 25th. FBC contact information is provided on the website.
