

NIST Workshop, May 2014

Commentary from MBH Analytical, UK

MBH do not currently have accreditation to ISO 17025 or to guide 34.

We do not have a commercial laboratory with analytical facilities offering any kind of traceability. Hence we have never sought or needed accreditation to 17025 (we do have ISO9001, however).

Changing the subject: do we get asked if we have accreditation? Perhaps once a week, and always by a customer who seems to have misinterpreted the requirements of 17025.

We will seek accreditation to guide 34, once the requirements are clear.
